About the Flowers in the Sanctuary

The flowers today are from Michelle Mecey's garden, in loving memory of her grandmother Marie Mecey-Edwards, who always had flowers growing in her garden.

About the Worship Leader

Nelson Moroukian grew up at Unity Church, an active participant in religious education and Tower Club, and a member of the Selma 70 for the 50th anniversary of the Selma Bridge crossing. He is currently studying religion and public policy at the University of Glasgow in Scotland and watching world events unfold through the eyes of an international Unitarian Universalist.

About the Worship Associate

Angela Wilcox was originally pulled to Unity Church by her children, and has been delighted to find that her own place in this community has grown and deepened as her children have moved out into the world. She lives in St. Paul, and works on issues of equity and inclusion in educational communities. She is proud and a bit awestruck to be serving as worship associate for her son.

About the Musicians

Sunita Staneslow (harp) has a long history with Unity Church. Her parents have been members for over 50 years. Sunita grew up in Saint Paul, studied at Tufts University and the Manhattan School of Music, and now makes her home in Tel Aviv. She performs and teaches at harp festivals around the world and is best known for her books of traditional music arranged for the harp. For the past nine years Sunita has been working as a therapeutic musician at the Schneider Children's Hospital in Israel. Sunita's CDs will be available for purchase in the Parish Hall following the service.

This is Kathleen Bartholomay's 20th year as summer music coordinator at Unity Church. A long-time member, Kathleen has also accompanied Unity's adult choir and shared her musical gifts in recitals, memorial services, weddings, and other occasions. A graduate of Pacific Lutheran University, she also holds a M.M. degree in piano performance from University of Nebraska-Lincoln and is now studying and practicing to become a certified music therapist.
