

April 2018

What Does It Mean To Be A Community of Transformation?

What Does It Mean To Be A Community of Transformation?

Let mystery have its place in you; do not be always turning up your whole soil with the plowshare of self-examination, but leave a little fallow corner in your heart ready for any seed the winds may bring, and reserve a nook of shadow for the passing bird; keep a place in your heart for the unexpected guests, an altar for an unknown God.

-Henri-Frederic Ariel

Make a bit of room. Leave a little space. That may not sound like anything radical or revolutionary. But it turns out that it is one of Life's favorite ways to make us into something new.

Be cautious with those cultural messages about aggressively tilling and turning up your whole soil. Watch out for all the heroic talk about striving and perfecting, struggle and control. Much of the time, transformation is a much subtler art. It's about stillness, listening and waiting to be led, not fighting with yourself and others to make sure you are in the lead.

In short, when it comes to transformation, the message of spirituality is "Be careful with what you've been taught and told because much of it takes us in exactly the wrong direction." Our challenge as a community of transformation is to remind each other to take a different tack. More often than not, it's about breathing rather than becoming better; patience not perfection; depth not dominance; attention not improvement.

That part about attention instead of improvement is especially important. It's so easy to get transformation mixed up with fixing. And fixing is transformation's biggest foe. Trying to purify or prove ourselves is the surest way to stay stuck. The pursuit of purity focuses us on our inadequacy and inferiority, causing us to overlook those unexpected guests that Henri-Frederic speaks of.

And, friends, we don't want to miss those unexpected guests! Those seeds brought by the wind and those passing birds are the partners that make transformation possible. They help us notice new paths. They invite us to walk with a new step. They awaken in us new songs. They remind us that transformation is not something we do alone. They assure us that transformation doesn't have to be a long and lonely struggle, but instead can be more like learning a new dance with a new friend. All we have to do is trust, take the hand of that "unknown God" and follow its lead.

So, friends, this month, leave some room on that dance floor of yours. Keep your eyes peeled. And when that unexpected guest reaches out its hand, don't be afraid.

In Faith,

Andrea Johnson

Our Spiritual Exercises

Option A: A Transformative Yes

Ok, let's admit it: we say "no" more often than we can count-or than we are aware of. It's often our default mode. We are so good at coming up with reasons to say no. Not enough time. Too risky. One has to pick and choose. We don't deserve it. Delayed gratification. Distrust. I know better. I want to be in control.

The trouble is that "No!" is a lock on the door, a fence that separates, blinders that tragically narrow our sight. Or to use an Easter metaphor, it's the stone rolled in front of our cave.

So this month, let's roll that stone away. Let's take a risk and SAY "YES," NO MATTER WHAT!

Patricia Ryan Madson, drama professor and author, captures the possibilities inherent in this daring spiritual discipline. She writes,

"This is going to sound crazy. Say yes to everything. Accept all offers. Go along with the plan. Support someone else's dream. Say: yes"; "right"; "sure"; "I will"; "okay"; "of course"; "YES!" Cultivate all the ways you can imagine to express affirmation. When the answer to all questions is yes, you enter a new world, a world of action, possibility, and adventure... It is undoubtedly an exaggeration to suggest that we can say yes to everything that comes up, but we can all say yes to more than we normally do. Once you become aware that you can, you will see how often we use the technique of blocking in personal relationships simply out of habit. Turning this around can bring positive and unexpected results... Try substituting "yes and" for "yes but" — this will get the ball rolling."

Keep it simple. Your instructions are to try it for 2-3 days and see how it goes. To keep you on task, print out these words on a small card or piece of paper and place it somewhere you will see throughout the day:

"Accept all offers. Go along with the plan. Support someone else's dream. Say: yes"; "right"; "sure"; "I will"; "okay"; "Yes and..." not "Yes but..."

For some inspiration, watch this:

24 Hours of YES Challenge!

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=jKQuY_X2WtY

Come to your group ready to share how it was harder than you thought, easier than you thought and lead you down paths that were more challenging and more gifted than you could have imagined!

Option B: Learning Your Way

The connection between transformation and learning is deep. To talk of transformation as learning is to remember that newness is not just about effort but also about insight. It's also a reminder that transformation is an on-going process not a one-and-done kind of thing. As Emily Lillian urges us, "Always be a work in progress!"

To engage us in this connection between transformation and learning, this exercise asks us to notice the ways in which we are already deep into the work of transformative learning. Here are your instructions:

Make time to meditate on the below poem & then write a version of your own.

You don't have to be a poet. All you have to do is complete the sentence "I am learning..." 5-10 times.

After you've written your own version, put it up somewhere where you will easily see it every day for a week or two. Come to your group ready to share what it was like to identify the learning you are in the midst of and what it was like to be more aware of it each day. Did identifying your learnings leave you proud? Surprised? Aware of something new? Did daily awareness advance your transformation? Change it?

I am Learning... by Amy Lloyd

i am learning to be brave
i am learning to speak my own language i am learning what i want to become i am learning what kind of life i want to live
i am learning to stand in my place without flinching
i am learning to go my own way i am learning not to help people who don't want help
i am learning to embrace my powerful spirit
i am learning how to build my own bridges complete with lions to guard against the foot-traffic
i am learning i have value to bring to those waiting to hear my voice
i am learning the intensity of my own burning passions
i am learning to keep digging in the murkiest of my own brokenness
i am learning to accept my imperfections as beautiful
i am learning to think in terms of unlimited possibilities
i am learning i will not always be understood in the way I intended
i am learning to apologize and then move freely forward
i am learning
and learning
and learning
new things
every minute
every day
i am a learning to be a part of the healing of the world
because i am willing to learn to be me

Option C: A Long Hard Look

Author Barbara Kingsolver is a master at celebrating the connection between perception, transformation and healing. She writes,

“In my own worst seasons I’ve come back from the colorless world of despair by forcing myself to look hard, for a long time, at a single glorious thing: a flame of red geranium outside my bedroom window. And then another: my daughter in a yellow dress. And another: the perfect outline of a full, dark sphere behind the crescent moon. Until I learned to be in love with my life again. Like a stroke victim retraining new parts of the brain to grasp lost skills, I have taught myself joy, over and over again.”

This exercise invites you to experience a similar gift of a “single glorious thing” from your own surroundings. Here are your instructions:

1. Take some time to identify a special “single glorious thing” that you have the opportunity to look at every day. Your daughter getting on the bus. The flower cart on your way to work. Your spouse brushing her hair or reading the morning paper. You will know it when you see it.
2. For at least 5 days in a row, use your phone/camera to take a picture of that glorious thing.
3. Before your group, make time to meditate on the collection of photos, either for a full hour of one day or 10 minutes for 3 days in a row. Pay attention to the differences and the similarities. Let the sameness and subtle differences enable you to see something new or appreciate it in a deeper way.
4. Come to your group ready to share what you discovered, and how this transformative looking “taught you joy over again” or “add color” to your world.

For some inspiration, watch this:

Auggie's Photo Album, from Smoke

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=JGV_h36uZ5E

Your Question

As always, don't treat these questions like "homework" or a list that needs to be covered in its entirety. Instead, simply pick the one question that speaks to you most and let it lead you where you need to go. The goal is to figure out what being a part of a community of transformation means for you and your daily living. So, which question is calling to you? Which one contains "your work"?

1. Do you know what Life is inviting you to become? What's happened to your vision of what transformation looks like?
2. What were you taught in childhood about your ability to change yourself and/or the world? Are those lessons ones you need to remember or reject?
3. Is delayed gratification delaying your transformation?
4. Is believing "I don't deserve it" standing in your way?
5. Are you really longing to be transformed or could it be that your heart just wants to be understood?
6. Are you sure your transformation lies in following the light? Or might Life instead be calling you to befriend the dark? Is your challenge imagining what is possible or being honest about the past? Believing in your potential or accepting your shadow? ("One does not become enlightened by imagining figures of light, but by making the darkness conscious." - Carl Jung)
7. Who said this was going to be easy? Who said transformation wouldn't hurt?
8. Who needs you to grab them by the shoulders and shake them into transformation?
9. Who needs you to quietly "sit with them among the shards and gently turn their face toward the light"? (Jan Richardson)
10. Have you outgrown your life?
11. What kind of thank you's do you need to say to your old life so you can walk into your new one?
12. Is it possible that your stone's already been rolled away and you've not noticed?
13. What is today – this day- asking you to become?
14. What if we are the "last generation that can do something about it?" ("We are the first generation to feel the sting of climate change, and we are the last generation that can do something about it." - Jay Inslee, Governor of Washington)
15. What's your question? Your question may not be listed above. As always, if the above questions don't include what life is asking from you, spend the month listening to your days to hear it.

Recommended Resources

As always, this is not required reading. We will not analyze or dissect these pieces in our group. They are simply meant to companion you on your journey this month, get your thinking started, and maybe open you to new ways of thinking about what it means to be a community of Transformation

Transformation

Trans – latin prefix, meaning across or through

Form – v. bring together separate parts or combine to create

Tion – latin suffix, the action of the verb

Literally: The act of bringing separate parts across or through

Wise Words

Always be a work in progress

- Emily Lillian

Oh my God, what if you wake up some day and you never got your memoir or novel written; or you didn't go swimming in warm pools and oceans all those years because your thighs were jiggly and you had a nice big comfortable tummy; or you were just so strung out on perfectionism and people-pleasing that you forgot to have a big juicy creative life, of imagination and radical silliness and staring off into space like when you were a kid? It's going to break your heart. Don't let this happen. Repent just means to change direction — and NOT to be said by someone who is wagging their forefinger at you. Repentance is a blessing. Pick a new direction and aim for that. Shoot the moon.

- Annie Lamott

You cannot go on indefinitely being just an ordinary, decent egg. We must be hatched or go bad.

- C.S. Lewis

This is going to sound crazy. Say yes to everything. Accept all offers. Go along with the plan. Support someone else's dream. Say: yes"; "right"; "sure"; "I will"; "okay"; "of course"; "YES!" Cultivate all the ways you can imagine to express affirmation. When the answer to all questions is yes, you enter a new world, a world of action, possibility, and adventure... It is undoubtedly an exaggeration to suggest that we can say yes to everything that comes up, but we can all say yes to more than we normally do. Once you become aware that you can, you will see how often we use the technique of blocking in personal relationships simply out of habit. Turning this around can bring positive and unexpected results [and transformation]... Try substituting "yes and" for "yes but" — this will get the ball rolling.

- Patricia Ryan Madson

Yearning for a new way will not produce it. Only ending the old way can do that.

- Richard Rohr

We are not meant to stay wounded. We are supposed to move through our tragedies and challenges and to help each other move through the many painful episodes of our lives. By remaining stuck in the power of our wounds, we block our own transformation. We overlook the greater gifts inherent in our wounds — the strength to overcome them and the lessons that we are meant to receive through them. Wounds are the means through which we enter the hearts of other people. They are meant to teach us to become compassionate and wise.

- Caroline Myss

Spiritual transformation is a death as well as a birth. The teachers who help us to grow know that it can't happen without this pain. They don't save us from it—in fact, what they do usually intensifies it.

- Rev Amy Zucker Morgenstern

In my own worst seasons I've come back from the colorless world of despair by forcing myself to look hard, for a long time, at a single glorious thing: a flame of red geranium outside my bedroom window. And then another: my daughter in a yellow dress. And another: the perfect outline of a full, dark sphere behind the crescent moon. Until I learned to be in love with my life again. Like a stroke victim retraining new parts of the brain to grasp lost skills, I have taught myself joy, over and over again.

- Barbara Kingsolver

Nature does not ask permission. Neither do you have to. Blossom and birth whenever you feel like it.

- Clarissa Pinkola Estés

Nothing remains as it was. If you know this, you can begin again, with pure joy in the uprooting.

- Judith Minty

Prayer does not change God; it changes the one who offers it.

- Kierkegaard

If you see what needs to be repaired and how to repair it, then you have found a piece of the world that God has left for you to complete. But if you only see what is wrong and what is ugly in the world, then it is you yourself that needs repair.

- Rabbi Menachem Mendel Schneersohn

“Everything is gestation and then bringing forth. To let each impression and each germ of feeling come to completion wholly in itself, in the dark, in the inexpressible, the unconscious, beyond the reach of one's own intelligence, and await with deep humility and patience the birth-hour of a new clarity: that alone is living the artist's life, in understanding and in creating. There is no measuring in time, no year matters, and ten years are nothing. Being an artist means, not reckoning and counting, but ripening like the tree which does not force its sap and stands confidence in the storms of spring without fear that after them may come no summer.”

- Rainer Maria Rilke

It is not the strongest of the species that survives, nor the most intelligent, but the one most responsive to change.

- Charles Darwin

All changes, even the most longed for, have their melancholy, for what we leave behind us is a part of ourselves; we must die to one life before we can enter into another.

- Anatole France

Nature often holds up a mirror so we can see more clearly the ongoing processes of growth, renewal, and transformation in our lives.

- Anonymous

The land must rest for seventy years to make up for the years when the people refused to observe the Sabbath.

- 2 Chronicles 36:21

We are the first generation to feel the sting of climate change, and we are the last generation that can do something about it.

- Jay Inslee, Governor of Washington

All that you touch
you change.

All that you change
changes you.

The only lasting truth
is change.

God is change.

- Octavia E. Butler

Not everything that is faced can be changed. But nothing can be changed until it is faced.

- James Baldwin

One does not become enlightened by imagining figures of light, but by making the darkness conscious.

- Carl Jung

We have work to do. We can try on masks, we can hide behind masks, but I am asking you to look under the mask. Who is at the core? What [is waiting] to be transformed?

- Soul Matters Member, Linnea Nelson

Our survival adaptations are so tough, but our wounds are so delicate. To heal, we have to lift the armor carefully – it saved our lives, after all. It's like moving your best friend off to the side of the path. You don't trample on her, you don't hit her with a sledgehammer. You honor her presence like a warm blanket that has kept you safe and sound during wintry times.

- Jeff Brown, Love it Forward

The Healing Time

Finally on my way to yes
I bump into
all the places where I said no
to my life
all the untended wounds
the red and purple scars
those hieroglyphs of pain
carved into my skin, my bones,
those coded messages
that send me down
the wrong street
again and again
where I find them
the old wounds
the old misdirections and I lift them
one by one
close to my heart
and I say holy holy.
- Pesha Gertler

Personal transformation can and does have global effects. As we go, so goes the world, for the world is us. The revolution that will save the world is ultimately a personal one.
- Marianne Williamson

For a New Beginning

In out-of-the-way places of the heart,
Where your thoughts never think to wander,
This beginning has been quietly forming,
Waiting until you were ready to emerge.

For a long time it has watched your desire,
Feeling the emptiness growing inside you,
Noticing how you willed yourself on,
Still unable to leave what you had outgrown.
It watched you play with the seduction of safety
And the gray promises that sameness whispered,
Heard the waves of turmoil rise and relent,
Wondered would you always live like this.

Then the delight, when your courage kindled,
And out you stepped onto new ground,
Your eyes young again with energy and dream,
A path of plenitude opening before you.

Though your destination is not yet clear

You can trust the promise of this opening;
Unfurl yourself into the grace of beginning
That is at one with your life's desire.

Awaken your spirit to adventure;
Hold nothing back, learn to find ease in risk;
Soon you will be home in a new rhythm,
For your soul senses the world that awaits you.
- John Donohue

Blessing When the World is Ending

This blessing
will not fix you,
will not mend you,
will not give you
false comfort;
it will not talk to you about one door opening
when another one closes.
It will simply sit itself beside you
among the shards
and gently turn your face
toward the direction
from which the light
will come,
gathering itself
about you
as the world begins
again.
- Jan Richardson

<http://adventdoor.com/2014/11/23/advent-1-blessing-when-the-world-is-ending/>

But now that so much is changing, isn't it time for us to change? Couldn't we try to gradually develop and slowly take upon ourselves, little by little, our part in the great task of love?
- Rainer Maria Rilke

Easter Morning

Dear God:
Good Friday is gone—a dark day on the calendar,
A time of suffering—with more losses than gains,
And more pain than we thought we could bear.

We are tired of crying,
We are tired of burying,
We are tired of mourning.

But Easter is here—and we who survived are prepared
For the turning of the year—not to escape the past,
But to provide a witness for a brighter future.

We are ready for joy,
We are ready for love,
We are ready for new beginnings.
Amen!
- "Dancing in the Empty Spaces" by David O. Rankin. Skinner House, 2001.
<http://www.uua.org/worship/words/meditation/aster-morning>

The Growing Edge

Howard Thurman

<https://www.uua.org/worship/words/quote-reading/howard-thurman-quote>

All around us worlds are dying and new worlds are being born; All around us life is dying and life is being born.
The fruit ripens on the tree; The roots are silently at work in the darkness of the earth
Against a time when there shall be new leaves, fresh blossoms, green fruit.
Such is the growing edge!
It is the extra breath from the exhausted lung,
The one more thing to try when all else has failed,
The upward reach of life when weariness closes in upon all endeavor.
This is the basis of hope in moments of despair,
The incentive to carry on when times are out of joint
And people have lost their reason; the source of confidence
When worlds crash and dreams whiten into ash.
The birth of the child—life's most dramatic answer to death—
This is the Growing Edge incarnate.
Look well to the growing edge.

Articles

Eleven News Sites to Help Us Save and Transform the Earth

<https://mediablog.prnewswire.com/2016/04/20/11-top-news-sites-for-out-of-this-world-environmental-coverage/>

The Resurrection is Not An Argument

By Giles Fraser

<https://www.theguardian.com/commentisfree/belief/2016/mar/31/the-resurrection-isnt-an-argument-its-the-christian-word-for-defiance>

The resurrection is more an identity than an argument. That's why we turn it into participatory theatre, with incense and candles. It is who we are – our word for how we go on in the face of overwhelming odds. It's the Christian term for defiance... The resurrection is the name we give to the multiple ways we push back against the darkness.

7 Signs You're Experiencing a Major Spiritual Transformation

Natasha Che

http://www.huffingtonpost.com/natasha-che/7-signs-youre-experiencing-a-major-spiritual-transformation_b_7958282.html

“All the mystics who came before you, be it Jesus, Buddha, Muhammad, or Snoopy, had periods of disappearance into the void- the empty spots on the timeline of their life when it seemed they had suddenly dropped off the edge of the planet. Nobody knew where they were and what they were doing. They went alone, they went within, relinquishing their old limited identity and becoming something more expanded, powerful, and closer to their true self. In a sense what you're experiencing is similar. Except that they had a desert or a cave to go to...”

Radical Transformation

Richard Rohr

<https://cac.org/radical-transformation-2016-05-12/>

This is true religious conversion. This is second half of life religion, although it can happen at any age. The experience occurs when God or life destabilizes your private ego, usually through some form of suffering. It will feel like dying because it is the death of the false self. The small, separate self is shattered, and your True Self is revealed. The True Self is all about right relationship, not requirements. It's not about being correct; it's about being connected, which you always were—you just didn't realize it.

Transforming White Fragility Into Courageous Imperfection

Courtney E. Martin

<http://www.onbeing.org/blog/transforming-white-fragility-into-courageous-imperfection/7701>

“We were gathered around two round tables, covered in bright yellow and white gingham table cloths, picking at the remnants of our Saturday evening potluck, and talking about what it means to be white in America at this time of such horrific, racialized violence and such powerful uprising. People shared stories about their frayed familial roots, expressed anger and grief and confusion about how to act (especially locally), and yearned, together, for this moment to be one that our children might look back on and say, “That was when white people finally, really took a stand...”

James Luther Adams's examined faith transforms liberal faith

Christopher Walton

<http://www.uuworld.org/articles/james-luther-adamss-examined-faith>

“Transformation was Adams's great theme... Adams holds that liberalism must no longer be confused with lax, uncritical, or mere broad-minded attitudes, least of all in an age of rising tyrannies of the Right and the Left,” Beach writes. “The aim of religious awareness, religious faith, religious community, and religious life must be radical change.” Things do not simply work themselves out; human beings must push.”

Podcasts and Talks

The Losses and Laughter We Grow Into

Kevin Kling

<https://soundcloud.com/onbeing/kevin-kling-the-losses-and-laughter-we-grow-into/sets>

A treasured figure on the national storytelling circuit, Kevin Kling's voice inhabits an unusual space — where a homegrown Minnesota wit meets Dante and Shakespeare. Born with a disabled left arm, he lost the use of his right one after a motorcycle accident nearly killed him. He shares his special angle on how life's humor and its ruptures can be transformed as we turn our losses into story.

The Body's Grace – On Being Podcast

Text: <http://www.necessaryshenanigans.com/matthew-sanford-the-bodys-grace/>

Video: <https://vimeo.com/330002>

A moving take on transformation through the mind-body connection with author, yoga teacher and paraplegic, Matthew Sanford.

What if gentrification was about healing communities instead of displacing them.

https://www.ted.com/talks/liz_ogbu_what_if_gentrification_was_about_healing_communities_instead_of_displacing_them

Liz Ogbu is an architect who works on spatial justice: the idea that justice has a geography and that the equitable distribution of resources and services is a human right.

Videos

Today I Rise - Short Film

<https://vimeo.com/122762336>

"Where are you? Where are you, little girl with broken wings but full of hope? Where are you, wise women covered in wounds? ...Today is the day I will not sit still and not give in. Today I rise. I am bruised but I will walk again... I transform my anger to power... Today I rise..."

Shake My Future - Dorothea Smartt

A poem to shake our complacency and stir up our commitment to climate justice...

Video:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=st5clGxZ75A>

Text and Podcast:

<http://www.poetryarchive.org/poem/shake-my-future>

The Present - Short Film

A short film celebrating the way we are transformed by the courage of another. By transforming ourselves we transform others.
<https://vimeo.com/152985022>

A School Transformed by Replacing Detention with Meditation

<https://www.facebook.com/MicMedia/videos/1240485765974211/>

The Kind of Transformation that The Church Offers

By Brene Brown

<http://www.mbird.com/2013/07/brene-brown-reflects-on-how-jesus-wept/>

I went back to church thinking it would be like an epidural. But faith and church was not like an epidural but like a midwife... who just stood next to me saying push. It is suppose to hurt... People want love to be like unicorns and rainbows. But Jesus says love is hard, trouble and controversial. Love is not easy... I thought faith would say I will take away the pain and discomfort but what it ended up saying is "I'll sit with you in it." And I never thought that would be enough but it's perfect... Love weeps.

Reconsidering the Transformation of The Cross

Nadia Bolz Weber

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=k60Ys9GXHSs&t=223s>

The cross is actually about God saying I would rather die than be in the sin accounting business anymore. On the cross, we don't see a legal transaction where Jesus pays our debt; on the cross we actually see God. The cross is God's self revelation.

Movies

Notes on Blindness

In 1983, after decades of steady deterioration, writer and theologian John Hull became totally blind. To help him make sense of the upheaval in his life, he began documenting his experiences on audiocassette. The result is a poetic and intimate story of loss, rebirth and transformation.

Trailer:<https://www.theguardian.com/film/video/2016/jun/13/notes-on-blindness-trailer-video>

Review:<http://www.spiritualityandpractice.com/films/reviews/view/28313/notes-on-blindness>

The Fisher King

The wise and humane real-world fantasy The Fisher King wants to heal and transform its audience. Anchoring itself in the Grail myth and illuminating the stages of a contemporary hero's journey, it is a beautiful and touching testimony to the power people have to heal and transform each other.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=NHaZuRo3DZ4>

Review:

https://www.rottentomatoes.com/m/fisher_king

Other People

A story of being brought back to life by accepting death.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=8uMM7SH1Hh0>

Spring, Summer, Fall, Winter... And Spring

https://www.amazon.com/Spring-Summer-Fall-Winter/dp/B0083GPHJM/ref=sr_1_fkmr0_1?ie=UTF8&qid=1521579413&sr=8-1-fkmr0&keywords=Spring%2C+Summer%2C+Fall%2C+Winter%2E%80%A6And+Spring+Symbols+of+the+passing+seasons+are+used+to+tell+this+story+of+a+young+Buddhist+monk%27s+evolution+from+Innocence+to+Love%2C+Evil+to+Enlightenment%2C+and+ultimately+to+Rebirth

Symbols of the passing seasons are used to tell this story of a young Buddhist monk's evolution from Innocence to Love, Evil to Enlightenment, and ultimately to Rebirth

Songs

Rise Up - Andra Day

You're broken down and tired
Of living life on a merry-go-round
And you can't find the fighter
But I see it in you so we gonna walk it out
And move mountains
We gonna walk it out
And move mountains

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=kNKu1uNBVku>

The Cave - Mumford & Sons

But I will hold on hope
And I won't let you choke
On the noose around your neck
And I'll find strength in pain
And I will change my ways
I'll know my name as it's called again

Video:<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=oMO4xdOS5jY>

Lyrics:https://play.google.com/music/preview/Tqzxscc3ja4na6ct5oz574sjf2q?lyrics=1&utm_source=google&utm_medium=search&utm_campaign=lyrics&pcampaignid=kp-lyrics

Stay Alive - José González

There is a truth and it's on our side
Dawn is coming, open your eyes.
Look into the sun as a new days rise...

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=NucJk8TxyRg&index=3&list=RDRknUh1LapJs>

From The Water - William Fitzsimmons

The transformation of being pulled from the water!

"I will pull you from water
Let your lungs return to air
Take you back unto the shore
And lead you home"

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=MH1r7dV6JEk>

Passion Play - William Fitzsimmons

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=RhihGqZEWoc>

"I just want to be not what I am today
I just want to be better than my friends might say
I just want a small part in your passion play
Do you hear when I call in the midst of wrong?
Do you hear these here words while I sing you this song?
Are you caught up in me like I heard you say?
Or just some big cashier that I'll have to pay..."

I Want to Get Better - Bleachers

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=A81Z6hGjGJQ&app=desktop>

Changes - David Bowie

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=1QICoxvPFXI>
(Acoustic cover)

Global Chorus: 365 Voices on the Future of the Planet

edited by Todd MacLean

"Three hundred sixty-five messages for the future of our planet from gurus, politicians, athletes, humanitarians, children and others. Their words will give you hope that we can make the transformations needed to save our environment."

Originals: How Non-Conformists Move the World

by Adam Grant

Grant addresses the challenge of improving [and transforming] the world, from the perspective of becoming original. ...groundbreaking insights about rejecting conformity and transforming the status quo.

Hope For the Flowers

by Trina Paulus

Its theme of life, moving through seeming death to a new and more beautiful life, has touched the hearts of millions of people

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Aarowtnr-hs>
<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=wEBIaMOmKV4>

Books

The Great Spiritual Migration

Brian McLaren

"When liberation spirituality frees the poor from the dehumanizing scripts of the oppressed, they can help the rich be liberated from their dehumanizing scripts of oppression."

Emergent Strategy

Adrienne Marie Brown

https://www.amazon.com/Emergent-Strategy-Shaping-Change-Changing/dp/1849352607/ref=sr_1_1?s=books&ie=UTF8&qid=1521579575&sr=1-1&keywords=emergent+strategy+adrienne+mari+e+brown

Inspired by Octavia Butler's explorations of our human relationship to change, this book is radical self-help, society-help, and planet-help designed to shape the futures we want to live.

The Parable of the Sower

Octavia Butler

https://www.amazon.com/Parable-Sower-Earthseed-Octavia-Butler/dp/0446675504/ref=sr_1_1?ie=UTF8&qid=1521579530&sr=8-1&keywords=parable+of+the+sower+by+octavia+butler

When unattended environmental and economic crises lead to social chaos, not even gated communities are safe.

This packet was created based on the Soul Matters Sharing Circle model of small groups. It should only be used within Unity Church Unitarian.

<https://www.facebook.com/soulmatterssharingcircle>